GET BUSY, BOYS

Uncle Bill was silent and thoughtful as he crammed some Long Green into his old stained cob pipe. The boys about the store nudged each other and winked, as one of them asked: "Got any more interesting figures on State Aid, Uncle Bill?"

A cloud of blue smoke hid the old gentleman's head as he growled a dissatisfied, "Nope."

"What's the matter, done run out of 'em?"

"Nope," again came from the haze of smoke.

"What's the matter then?"

"Nothing, only the time has gone by for talking figures and what some of the other States are doing for their roads."

"Why, what do you mean, Uncle Bill?"

"I mean just this, that the time for doing things is here right now, and we've got to get busy, and get busy quick, too."

"How?"

"Ain't election time right onto us? How many of you fellows that are here at the store every day for your mail and down at the county seat every court day, knows how each one of the candidates at a running stands on this good roads business and State Aid? The time's gone for talking, it's time to make the other fellow do the talking so we'll know what he's going to do to make the big factory, every big bank, and every business house help you and me build our roads."

"I reckon we ought to do something."

"Great Scott, don't say, 'You reckon,' that's what's the matter with us, we reckon and we think until somebody else gets busy and you and I get left."

"I reckon—"

"Look here, you've got into that habit of reckoning and you better get out of it. The thing to do is to see every candidate that wants to go to Frankfort and find out how he stands. Don't let him holze and beat around the bush, just make him come out and say, 'I'm for State Aid for road building,' or say, 'I'm against State Aid.'"

"There's been a lot in the papers about this business, and I reckon, and we better get things done."

"Yes, we had. Say, ain't you and me better educated than the folks was in 1831? Don't we live in better houses, don't we have better stock, don't we ride in better rigs, don't we have more newspapers and magazines?"

"Course, anybody knows that."

"Well then, if the folks that ran things that far back was willing to put all the money they did into State aid work on the roads, we ought to be able to do the same thing— Look here, is our State worth as much as it was in 1831?"

"Ever so many times as much."

"Then we ought to get ever so many times as much money to put into good roads now. Do you know that the finest land on the globe ain't a fit place for you to live in unless you've got roads so you can go somewhere when you want to? Ain't I right, boys?"

"Yes."

"Then get busy and learn where every candidate is on this State Aid proposition. Get busy, boys."

State Tuberculosis Commission

The committee in charge of the summer campaign of the State Tuberculosis Commission has determined on a plan of concentrated efforts looking toward the building of county hospitals for consumptives in those counties where a considerable amount of effort has already been made in education campaigns. In a meeting at the Commission office Monday afternoon, the following resolution was passed:

"Whereas, It is believed that in carrying out the intention of the Act creating the Kentucky Board of Tuberculosis Commissioners, it is advisable to concentrate our efforts in a few counties to the end of getting action at once by the fiscal courts, and, failing this, a vote of the people at the November election for the erection and maintenance of tuberculosis sanatoria.

"Resolved, That we at once take proper steps to aid the local associations, or interested individuals, in such counties as Daviess, Henderson, Mason, Fayette, or others that may develop, to bring about the desired result; that in Kenton county, where the preliminary steps have already been taken, we furnish such aid as seems advisable and is locally desired; that the aid may take the form of a tent and exhibit sent for the local fair, and an organizer to take charge of a publicity campaign, a nurse, funds for prison matter, and other necessary expenses."

Negotiations for the hiring of three or four experienced organizers for work of this sort have begun.

The Commission will be glad to receive requests for assistance from any Association, or interested group of individuals, for this work.

Points About the Banjo.
A banjo is a difficult instrument to do anything with. After you learn to play it, you have to spend a lot more time hunting up people who are willing to listen to it.

Agricultural Extension and Rural Communities

Paper from T. R. Bryant, Supt. Extension Division, Experiment Station, at Lexington, containing good hints for the farmer:

"We hear much nowadays about agricultural extension work, demonstration farms, boys' corn clubs, better farming methods and a large number of other comparatively new agricultural enterprises, but many people fail to get a clear conception of what is to be accomplished by such work."

"Agricultural extension work is accomplishing a twofold purpose; first, in enabling the farmers to realize a greater cash in time, improving their land while so doing, and second, in producing a reflex action upon the farmer and his family which will enable them to improve themselves even more than they improve their farms. The two phases of the work go hand in hand, but the latter is, after all, the more fundamental and important."

"There has been for many years a well recognized tendency to depreciate rural life and a general movement toward the towns and cities has been the result, this being largely responsible for the much talked of 'high cost of living.' This cityward movement clearly indicates that something in the country needs improvement. The next question is: What needs improvement? The answer in part is: The farms, the roads, the schools, the churches and the homes themselves."

"We all know that it takes money to accomplish many of these desired improvements, hence the extension worker seeks a means of assisting the farmer to increase his earnings by better cropping, use of more and better live stock, inaugurating new enterprises, keeping farm accounts, etc., but incidentally strives to set the farmer and his family to thinking, to reading and to generally broadening their horizon so that they may themselves be more resourceful and better able to help themselves, that they may get more out of life in their home environment which is or may be made to be the best in the world."

"Suppose that all agricultural extension endeavor could succeed in giving $1,000 in a day to every farmer in the State, without giving him any new incentive to betterment of his home or his community; would we dare to suppose that the roads, schools, churches and homes would at once become as much improved as we believe they will be twenty years hence? This money increase per capita is of course more than we can hope to accomplish, hence we see that the substantial rural betterment that is sure to be brought about is being accomplished by the indescribable influence which assists people to gain a new point of view upon life in both its economic and social phases."

"Rome was not built in a day, neither can we expect great material improvement of a nation or of rural or urban districts to be accomplished without time, which is great and necessary factor."

"In view of the almost self evident truths enumerated above, let every rural community in the State welcome any kind of endeavor for rural betterment and not come that it is lost vain, whose fruits cannot be exactly counted in dollars and cents."

"The Extension Service of the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station is a potent worker for good in country improvement and so far as possible will help in all such enterprises."

CIVIL STRIFE IN 1863 War of The Rebellion.

(From the Louisville Daily Democrat, Saturday morning, Feb. 16th, 1861)

The following extracts will be laughed at by even the most rabid secess in our midst; not one but must acknowledge a cause hopeless that seeks to bolster itself up by starting and believing in such lies as here set down:

From the Richmond Whig, Jan. 30th, headed, "The News from Kentucky," reads: Immediately after the adjournment of the House of Representatives, yesterday, Gov. Foote desired that the members would give him their attention for a moment. He said that it had been proposed to hold a meeting immediately, from which the public would not be excluded, in order to give expression to the gratification which all must feel in regard to the glorious news from Kentucky.

"What news is that?" asked Mr. Lyons.

"Why that the Governor of Kentucky has ordered out 60,000 troops to crush the rule of Abolitionism in that State."

"What is the authority for the statement?" asked several members.

"This," replied Governor Foote, "that news has been received, which the Kentucky delegation are disposed to believe."

"Oh! oh! oh!" from all parts of the hall, and the congregation immediately dispersed.

We may add that this news was brought to this city two days ago by a Lynchburg paper, with no other foundation than a rumor from Knoxville. It has received any confirmation, we have yet to learn the fact.

The following is the Richmond Enquirer's report of this scene.

SUPPLEMENTARY.

Mr. Foote—I am requested to ask the members to remain for an hour, in order to hold a public meeting, from which patriotic citizens generally are not excluded, to rejoice over the glorious news from Kentucky.

[Great confusion and laughter. Cries of "What is it?" "Order! order!"]

Mr. Foote—The news has arrived from Kentucky that the Governor of that State had called out sixty thousand men to fight against the Lincoln Government.

[Cries of "Where is your authority?"]

Mr. Foote—The news has arrived, and Illinois and Indiana are going to join us.

"Good! good!" Great laughter and confusion.]

From the Richmond Dispatch, of Jan. 30th.—Yesterday, during the day, some excitement was created by the announcement that Commissioners had arrived in this city, from the State of Illinois and Indiana, invested with authority to negotiate a treaty of alliance between those States and the States of the Confederacy, within thirty days, unless peace propositions were sooner made by the Administration at Washington. It was further alleged that the action of the States in question was based upon a deep-seated opposition to the Emancipation Proclamation of Lincoln. We are inclined to believe, as the result of inquiry on the subject, that gentlemen from Illinois and Indiana have recently arrived in this city, but that they came accredited with the powers attributed to them is not probable, from the fact that we have no account of any State action looking to the appointment of such Commissioners.

From the Richmond Whig, Jan 30, Important, it True.—It was currently reported, yesterday, that Commissioners from Indiana, Illinois and other Western States, arrived in Richmond the night previous, for the purpose of negotiating with the Confederate Government upon some method of bringing the war to a close. When it is ascertained that this extraordinary intelligence possesses the merit of truth, the newspapers will lose no time in communicating it to the public.

Special to the Cincinnati Gazette, from Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 10.—The following letter from Gen. Rosecrans in response to the resolutions of the General Assembly was sent in by Gov. Tod to-day:

Headquarters Department of the Cumberland, Murfreesboro, Tenn., Feb. 3.

To the Honorable the General Assembly of the State of Ohio:

The resolution of thanks passed by your honorable body, to the army of the Cumberland, its Commanding General and his staff, has been duly received and published to the troops of this command. On behalf of all, I return you heartfelt thanks.

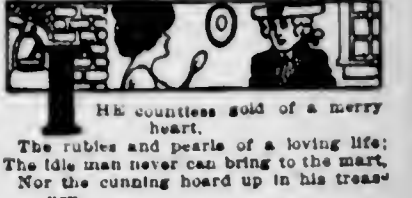

This is indeed a war for the maintenance of the Constitution and the laws—may, for national existence—against those who have despised our honest friendship, deceived our just hopes, and driven us to defend our country and our homes. By foul and willful slanders on our motives and intentions, persistently repeated, they have arrayed against us our own fellow citizens, bound to us by the triple ties of consanguinity, geographical position, and commercial interest.

Let no man among us be base enough to forget this, or fool enough to trust an oligarchy of traitors to their friends, to civil liberty and human freedom. Voluntary exiles from home and friends, for the defense and safety of all, we long for the time when gentle peace shall again spread her wings over our land; but we know no such blessing is possible while the unjust and arbitrary power of the rebel leaders confronts and threatens us. Truly as the fox, cruel as the tiger, they cried "no coercion," while preparing to strike us. Bally lie, they proposed to fight us, because they said they could whip five to one; and now, when driven back, they whine out "invasion," and promise us of the West permission to navigate the Mississippi, if we will be "good boys," and do as they bid us.

Whenever they have the power, they drive before them into their ranks the Southern people, and they would also drive us. Trust them not. Were they able, they would invade and destroy us without mercy. Absolutely assured of these things, I am amazed that any one could think of peace on any terms. He who entertains the sentiment is fit only to be a slave; he who utters it at this time is, moreover, a traitor to his country, who deserves scorn and contempt of all honorable men. When the power of the unscrupulous rebel leaders is removed and the people are free to consider and act for their own interests, which are common with ours under this Government, there will be no great difficulty in fraternization. Between our tastes and social life there are fewer differences than between those of the people of the northern and southern provinces of England or Ireland. Hoping that the time may speedily come when the power of the perfidious and cruel tyrant of this rebellion having been overthrown, a peace may be laid on the broad foundation of national unity and equal justice to all, under the Constitution and laws.

I remain your fellow-citizen,
W. S. ROSECRANS,
Major General.

MEAT SUBSTITUTES.

The housewife who finds it difficult, with the present high prices of meat, to keep her household expense within bounds, may gain new inspiration from studying the following nut dishes.

Nut Timbale.—Crush a cup of bickory nut meats and roll very fine, add two well beaten eggs, one-fourth of a cup of bread crumbs, a cup of thin cream, half a teaspoonful of salt and a few dashes of red pepper. Line timbale molds with strips of pimento, and turn in the mixture. Put the molds in a basin of boiling water and bake in a moderate oven for twenty minutes. Unmold and serve with cream sauce.

Nuts and mushrooms served in a white sauce to ramekins makes a delicious entree.

Nut Chowder.—Cook slowly until tender two cups of pecan nut meats (either chopped or broken) in four cups of water, then strain and add a half cup each of diced potatoes and carrots, two small onions thinly sliced, two tablespoonfuls of green pepper chopped and two cups of stewed tomatoes. Cook until the diced vegetables are soft, without losing the shape, and turn the mixture into a colander to drain.

Mix in carefully the nut meats and turn into a hot serving dish. Reheat the stock in which the vegetables were cooked, thicken with two tablespoonfuls each of peanut butter and flour cooked together; cook until smooth, and pour over the vegetables and serve.

Lentil Fillets.—Wash one cup of lentils and soak over night. In the morning drain and parboil in fresh boiling water thirty minutes; drain and cook until soft in sufficient boiling water to cover; rub through a sieve and to the puree add a fourth of a cup of olive oil, one cup of fine graham bread crumbs, one cup of strained tomatoes to which a speck of soda has been added, one cup of fibrous chopped and crushed to a paste, a tablespoonful each of grated celery and onion. Season with mixed herbs, salt and pepper. Mix well and mold in the form of fillets, place in a well oiled pan and brown in a quick oven. Serve with tomato sauce.

CARD

TO THE VOTERS OF MAGISTERIAL DISTRICT NO. 1:—

I am a candidate for the office of Justice of the Peace, subject to the action of the Republican Party, at the Primary to be held August 2nd, 1913.

I am a Republican, and have been fighting for its principles for many years. I have never asked for an office until now, and in presenting my claim to you, I wish to say that I will, if nominated and elected serve you to the best of my ability. I have had experience in the construction of roads, and will do all in my power for the promotion of Good Roads, and do all in my power to reduce the tax rate in Knox County. My name appears on the ballot in the second line. Don't fail to take your time and find it. Very truly,

DECATUR JACKSON.

ANNOUNCEMENT

TO THE VOTERS OF KNOX COUNTY:

I am no longer a candidate for the nomination for the office of jailor on the Republican ticket.

I withdraw from this race in the interest of the Republican Party, and not in favor of any candidate for this office whatever.

Thanking my friends who stood by me in this race, I am

Respectfully yours,

James Dinsmore.

Dense Crowd in Town Monday, Mixing.

Monday being County Court day there was one of the largest crowds in town for many months. More than one hundred candidates were here and speaking was going on at the court house all day long. These speeches were in the nature of joint debates between the different candidates, but were passed good naturedly and the crowd was peaceable and orderly.

The restaurants and hotels did a land office business and all the business houses profited by the out-of-town people.

A subject is one who owes allegiance to a sovereign and is governed by his laws. A citizen is a member of a state or nation; one bound to the state by reciprocal obligation of allegiance on the one hand and protection on the other. A German in his own country is both subject and citizen. If he becomes naturalized in this country he becomes a citizen of the United States and is no longer a subject of anybody. If he does not become naturalized here he remains a citizen of Germany and a subject of the Kaiser.

Department Store
BARBOURVILLE, KY.

To our Customers and the buying Public:

One month ago we started our progressive campaign of advertising in the "Advocate." In our first ad. we told you what you require and ought to have and how we can satisfy you. You require low prices, the best goods, good service, courteous treatment and you want to feel appreciated. So each week we have tried to tell you how we excel in some special requirement.

Really our main purpose is simply to introduce ourselves to you. You need no introduction to us personally as we have been in business in Harboursville at different locations under the names of Cole & Hughes, R. W. & L. M. Cole, Cole Hardware & Grocery Co. and L. M. Cole & Co., so you see we are quite well known here. But we want to introduce our store to you as it is really the thing you are most interested in.

You read our ad. about economy. We hope we interested you. Then about quality and we want you to watch for our next ad. as we are going to tell you something very interesting about EFFICIENCY. Get interested in our ads. They will cost you nothing and be worth much to you.

RESOLUTIONS

The Official Board of the First Methodist Church of Harboursville, Kentucky, hears with deep sorrow of the death of Mrs. Harrop. We have known at first hand of the splendid spirit of Mrs. Harrop, of her brightness and courage, under distressing physical conditions. We have known of the untiring devotion of the husband and daughter to her. We have known of the blessedness of the family circle that is now broken. The family life of the Harrops was an inspiration to all who came under its sweet influence. In this sad hour we feel the fruitlessness of attempting to assuage so overwhelming a grief. We can only tender our sincerest sympathy and point the father and daughter to the consolation of the bright hope that shines from the world beyond.

By their committee,

Percy L. Ports,
S. M. Perkins,
Read P. Black,

To Rev. F. W. Harrop and Mrs. Harrop, Covington, Ky.

Chas. G. Black has been out in the county this week advertising the Knox County Fair. In the Board of Directors stand behind Mr. Black in the matter of free attractions there is every indication that this will be the best fair for many years. Without some attractions other than the regular mule race and show rings, there is little reason to expect that there will be any increase in the attendance and it builds up to the previous mark of attendance it will be surprising.

Good Crowd at The Movies.

The attendance at the Star Moving Picture Theatre has been increasing so during the past few weeks that Mr. Brown has decided to run four nights in the week hereafter instead of three. In the future there will be a show on Monday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Last Friday night was "Duck Taylor's" night and the house was packed to standing room, allusions to know how he would get away with his initial appearance. He entertained.

PREACHING

Rev. J. W. Ligon will preach his first sermon as pastor of the Christian Church, Sunday morning at 11:00 o'clock, and evening services at 7:30 o'clock. All are cordially invited and urged to attend.

Downward Course

Fast Being Realized by Harboursville People
A little backache at first. Daily increasing till the back is lame and weak. Urinary disorders may quickly follow. Dropsy and often Bright's disease. This frequently is the downward course of kidney ailments. Don't take this course. Harboursville residents should profit by the following experience: Mrs. Sallie Hull, 402, Lancaster Avenue, Middletown, Ky., says: "I can recommend Dr. Kelley's Kidney Pills highly. They cured a relative of kidney complaint from which she had suffered for years. She had dizzy spells and backache and her health was all run down. The kidney secretions also caused much annoyance. Dr. Kelley's Kidney Pills cured her permanently. I have taken a few doses of this remedy and have been benefited." SECOND STATEMENT: When Mrs. Hull was interviewed on February 12th, 1922, "I am just as well as I was some years ago. No other medicine could do better work." For sale to all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-McBarn Co., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Dr. Kelley's—and take no others.—(Advertisement.)

Mrs. F. W. Harrop Dead

Friends of Rev. F. W. Harrop were grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. Harrop, his most estimable wife, which occurred at their home in Covington last week. Mrs. Harrop had been slowly sinking for several days and was in ill health while in this city and while her death was expected, yet she had a host of sincere friends in this city, all regretting to learn of her death and sympathizing with Rev. Harrop in his bereavement.

Simple Things Best.

To retain youth you must cultivate and preserve your power to enjoy simple things. As our forms of pleasure become complex and expensive the soul becomes stiff and cramped. To love simple food and drink, simple methods of play, simple speech, above all, the modest simplicity of nature, makes red blood. Resist the terrors of pessimism. It means the twilight of the soul and the empty night.—Frank Crane

Unretained Vigilance.

A young Texas matron has just returned from a visit to her millionaire uncle. "I didn't have a very good time," she confided to a friend. "I had to watch my trunk every minute to keep the maid from unpacking it."
